DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the claimed USB hub containing a driver port in claim 1, the claimed USB hub consisting a controller and a repeater in claim 2, the claimed base consisting a logic controller, a power supply, and a connection port in claim 3, and the claimed based consisting a keyboard and a touch control panel must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered. The figure 2 depicts a USB hub without a driver port.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1 recites “enabling a computer to be connected to said driver port through a USB cable”. Applicant needs to specify whether this computer is the same computer as the tablet computer recited in preamble wherein the USB cable will then be used to connect the base to the tablet computer. Claims 2-7 are rejected because they incorporate claim 1’s limitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.

Art Unit: 2111

2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. Claims 1-2 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the “Putting Pen to Tablet” by Rebecca Freed in view of USB Specification 2.0 and Nolan et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,728,734).

Referring to claim 1: Freed discloses a slate design notebook/tablet PC (Section of the Touching Experience). Freed discloses that it is known to attach accessories like a USB keyboard or docking station to the tablet PC; and Freed discloses that the docking station is known to add ports and drive bays. The physical exterior/case of the docking station disclosed by Freed is the claimed enclosure; and the device bays are to accommodate different peripheral devices installed within the enclosure. The USB Specification explicitly discloses the USB topology with a USB hub (USB Specification, page 16, figure 4-1, Tier 2); thus, Freed implicitly discloses a USB hub with a plurality of peripheral ports. Freed does not explicitly disclose that the USB hub including a driver port for connecting a computer.

Nolan discloses a data synchronizing mechanism with the USB protocol. Nolan discloses that it is known to connect a computer with a portable processing unit with a USB cable to achieve compliance of the information stored in the computer and the portable processing unit (column 1, lines 51-56). Hence, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the computer art at the time Applicant made the invention to adapt Nolan’s teachings onto Freed because Nolan teaches one to automatically synchronize the data between a computer and a portable processing unit with the USB protocol’s hot-plugging feature.

Art Unit: 2111

Referring to claim 2: The USB Specification discloses a controller and a repeater (USB Specification, Chapter 11, Hub Specification).

Referring to claim 5: Official Notice is taken on the following: the hard disk drive, CD ROM or floppy disk drive is known to be connected to the docking station.

Referring to claims 6-7: Nolan discloses a desktop computer and a notebook computer (column 4, lines 48-49).

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 3-4 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Referring to claim 3: The prior art on record does not explicitly disclose or teach the claimed structure which consists a logic controller, a power supply, and a connection port connected to a tablet computer, said logic controller respectively links to said driver port, said repeater and said connection port, and the tablet computer can controls and accesses all said peripheral devices by controlling said logic controller.

Referring to claim 4: Claim is allowable because it incorporates the claim 3's allowable subject matter.

Conclusion
